Edinburgh, June 1.

SInce our last we have an account that the late Earl of Argyle did on the 26th of the last Month march from Campletown in Kintire, with two Troops of Horse, (such as could be had in that Country) and 700 Foot to Tarbert, and met 300 of the Ila men, and 200 more were expected, where they were all to Muster the 28th. His three Ships came from Campletowne on Tuesday, and the next day went into Tarbert, the greatest carrying 30 Guns, the other 12, and the third six; He has another small Vessel with him, which he took upon the Coast laden with Corn: The 29th he loosed from the Tarbert accompanied with Auchinbreck (who we have already told you had joined him) and came into the Town of Rosa in the Ile of Boot, where he took a nights Provision for himself and his Men. The 30th he sailed round the Island with his three ships, and 20 small Boats, and came again to the Town of Rosa, and fired seven Guns at his landing, having with him, as we are informed, in all about 2500 men. He endeavours to perswade and encourage the people to Rise with him, by assuring them that there are already great Risings in England, as you will see by a Letter all written and signed by himself, directed, For the Laird of Lupe, which is herewith sent, and is as follows:

Campletown, May 22. 1685.

Loving Friend,

IT hath pleased God to bring me safe to this place, where several of both Nations do appear with me for Defence of the Protestant Religion, our Lives and Liberties, against Popery and Arbitrary Government, whereof the particulars are in two Declarations emitted by those Noblemen, Gentlemen, and others; and by me for my self. Your Father and I lived in great Friendship; and I am glad to serve you his Son in Defence of the Protestant Religion; And I will be ready to do it in your particular when there is occasion. I beseech you let not any out of fear or other bad Principles perswade you to neglect your Duty to God and your Country, at this time; or to believe that D. York is not a Papist, or that being one he can be a Righteous King. Then know that all England is in Arms in three several places, and the Duke of Monmouth appears at the same time upon the same grounds we do, and few places in Scotland, but soon will join; and the South and West wants but till they hear I am Landed, for so we resolved before I left Holland. Now I beseech you make no delay to separate from those abuse you, and are carrying on a Popish design; and come with all the Men of your Command to assist the Cause of Religion, where you shall be most welcome to,

Your loving Friend to serve you,

ARGYLL.

P. S. Let this serve young Logie, Skipnage, and Charles Mac Echan.

We have certain advice that his Majesties Yacht the Charlotte is come into the River of Clyde. the Commander of which does daily expect the Kings Ships upon that Coast.

Boston in New-England, April 21. Yesterday our Gracious Soveraign King JAMES the Second was Proclaimed here by our Magistrates, with the unanimous consent and satisfaction of all people; there was a very handsome appearance of about 1000 Foot Soldiers, and 100 Horsemen, with the principal Gentlemen and Merchants of the Country on Horse-Back, who marching through the Town to the Town-House, there read the Proclamation they had received from England with all due Solemnity, accompanied with the Acclamations of the People, and many Volleys of great and small Shot from the Castle and Forts, and Ships in the Harbour, and particularly from Noddles Island, where above 50 Pieces of Ordnance were discharged.

Vienna, May 23. The Imperial Court continues at Newstadt; and in the mean time great preparations are making for the Celebration of the Elector of Bavaria's Marriage with the Archduchess. The 2000 men of Mentz, Trier, and the City of Cologne, are sent towards Newheusel; and the Troops of Luneburg are likewise marching thither with several other Troops. The Duke of Lorrain is expected here the 27th Instant, and will part from hence the first of the next Month for Hungary. It is confirmed from Croatia that the Turks have a design upon Virovitza, the Garison where of has been lately paid by the Pope. We have received this day Letters from Hungary which say that the Garison in the Castle of Ungvar had begun to capitulate.

Vienna, May 27. The Count de Caprara is gone for Hungary to command the Imperial Troops which are at present encamped near Leweuts. The Turks have carried the Provisions and Ammunition they had at Vaccia, which were designed for the relief of Newheusel, to Buda to supply that Garison. An Hungarian Gentleman who has been some time a Prisoner at Buda, and was lately exchanged for a Turkish Officer, being arrived in the Imperial Camp, has assured Colonel Heusler that all manner of Provisions were very scarce at Buda, so that the Garison which consisted of 10000 men suffered extreamly. An Express is arrived here from General Schultz with an account of the surrender of the Castle of Ungvar; and that the Imperialists found there 50 pieces of Brass Cannon, besides several of Iron, and a great quantity of Ammunition; This Castle was taken the last year by Teekeley, but with a great deal of trouble, and the loss of many of his men. And by the ordinary Letters from Upper Hungary, we have advice that some Imperial Troops commanded by Captain Prennelsen of the Regiment of Herbeville having met a strong party of Rebels not far from Eperies, they had entirely routed them, killing 200 upon the place and taking all their Baggage; and that of the Christians 20 were killed and some few wounded. The 25th Instant arrived in the Neighborhood of this City the Regiment of Cuirassiers of Furstenberg in its march for Hungary. The Imperial Ministers, and the Envoy from the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel are not yet agreed concerning the Troops which that Prince offers to assist the Emperor with.

Cologne, June 1. The Letters from Heydelbergh give an account that one of the Princes of Neuberg hath been at Heydelbergh, Manheim and other places of the Palatinate, and hath in the name of the new Elector his Father, received the homage of the Magistrates and Inhabitants; and that his Electoral Highness was expected at Heydelbergh in 8 or 10 days, and
